APS Mdina Biennale Announced

The APS Mdina Biennale 2020 has been announced, and will take place from 13 March to 18 April next year. This third edition of the biennale will focus on the relationship between spirituality and the environment, asking whether art can have an impact on the conflicting relationship between materiality and nature.

The Mdina Biennale, which took place previously in 2015 and 2017, places spirituality alongside contemporary art, and creates a programme centred around St Paul's Cathedral in the historic city of Mdina. www.mdinabiennale.com
